

APPEAL FOR ROYALTY BY CHANCELLOR DAY

Head of Syracuse University
Makes Principal Address at American University.

On a sloping hillside, with the sky for a vaulted roof and a May-garlanded landscape for mural decorations, the first convocation of the American University was held yesterday, the chief event of interest being an address late in the afternoon by Chancellor James Roosevelt Day, of Syracuse University.

The chancellor's topic was "The American Citizen," and his two principal points were a demand for less interference with private business by the Government and unqualified allegiance to this country by naturalized citizens.

Though he made no mention of Theodore Roosevelt's name in his address, his audience generally understood that many of the chancellor's shafts were directed at some of the Roosevelt policies.

"There are people in this world who would condemn a railway train because of a hot box," said the speaker.

"Train Is Needed."

"Now in our economic, commercial and industrial systems there are hot boxes, but we are not content to let them cool off. Instead we begin to demolish the train and even tear up the track, though the road is needed and the train is needed."

"The attempt to regulate things by arbitrary law has resulted in ill for this great country. The business man rolled up his money, drew it out of circulation and put it aside. A cyclone rushing out of the West is familiar to some of us, and we were struck by a veritable cyclone of prosecutions, commissions, and investigations, until business was dismembered and scattered."

"We have been waiting for a possible reaction. How long we shall wait we do not know. Some day the war will help us, but I say we must pay our part of that debt."

"Every citizen ought to be left to carry on his commerce, and the United States ought not to meddle with it. The less officialdom and the more citizenship the better. Put a locomotive on a train crew or a great railroad system into officialdom and the result would be disastrous."

Only American Citizens.

Taking up the matter of patriotism and loyalty the chancellor said that he had been a little disturbed to hear people discuss what would probably happen to naturalized citizens if this country went to war. But for himself, he said he was satisfied that only American citizens and no hyphenated ones, continuing, he said:

"Our flag should protect our citizens wherever they walk or sail. And the President has never done a thing so praiseworthy since he entered the White House as he did when he asserted this principle."

Five fellowships were awarded at the convocation, one to Frank Blair Hanson, a graduate of George Washington University, and another to Miss Marie L. T. Morse. The fellowships were distributed as follows:

Merrill Jacob Haines, Simpson College, A. B. D. Garrett, Biblical Institute, nominated by Garrett Biblical Institute, to study the philosophy of religion at Harvard University; Hassie Octavia Ennell, A. B., North-western University, S. T. B., Boston University, School of Theology, nominated by Boston University, to study philosophy at the University of Paris; Marie Townsend Morse, A. B., Vassar College, nominated by Vassar College, to study physics at Johns Hopkins University; John Wesley E. Bowen, Jr., A. B., Wesleyan University, nominated by Harvard, to study history at Harvard; Frank Blair Hanson, A. B., George Washington University, A. M., University of Chicago, nominated by George Washington University and the University of Illinois, to study zoology at the University of Illinois.

British Names Board to Act on Drink Problem

LONDON, May 27.—The central board of control to deal with the drink problem in the munitions, transport and camp areas, created by an amendment to the defense of the realm act, has been named.

The board will consist of Baron d'Abernon, chairman; Col. Sir Neville Chamberlain, E. R. Cross, John McAusland Denny, W. F. Denny, Col. engineers, Dumbarton; John Hodge, member of parliament for Lancashire; Sir William H. Lever, Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the board of education; Waldorf Astor, member of parliament for Plymouth; Philip Snowden, member of parliament for Blackburn; John Pender, assistant secretary of the home office; R. R. Scott, of the admiralty, and W. Towle, a widely-known hotel manager.

Hen Sits on Eggs During Long Trip

HOOD RIVER, Ore., May 27.—Mrs. A. T. Boynton, who recently moved from near Tillamook to the community lying between this city and Mocier, has an old Rhode Island Red hen which arrived at her home while setting on a nestful of eggs after having stayed on their while on a train, in a room at Portland and on a boat.

The hen had been set on eighteen eggs two weeks before the family moved.

Pickaxe Hits Tin Can With $5,000 in Gold

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27.—A workman excavating for a new building uncovered with his pickaxe a tin can filled with gold. The amount is estimated at from $2,000 to $5,000. The money was divided among the men. The coins of $20, $5, $10 and $20 pieces were dated from 1840 to 1850, leaving the impression that the owner had put them in the hiding place before the civil war. It is thought he enlisted and intended to get the money after his return.

Wife of Commander of Light Brigade Is Dead

LONDON, May 27.—The Countess of Cardigan and Lancaster, whose first husband, Lieutenant General the Earl of Cardigan, led the famous charge at Balaklava, is dead. A few years ago she wrote the reminiscences of her own romantic career, containing piquant gossip of many notable figures of the Victorian era, which created a sensation.

DANCING BROADWAY TO GET MORAL BATH

Reformers Have Evidence Police
Can't Find of Sort That Closed Haymarket.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Members of the Committee of Fourteen today asked Acting Mayor McAneny to arrange with heads of the city departments for a conference on the advisability of giving dancing Broadway a moral bath.

Mrs. Henry Moskowitz of the Committee on Amusements of the Committee of Fourteen made this announcement.

"When Mrs. Helen M. Kelly went into court to win back her young daughter, public attention was focused on a situation which has long existed, and which the committee long has been investigating."

The fact of the matter is that the girl from Fifth Avenue was exposed to the same sort of danger that the girl from less fashionable parts of the city was exposed to before the lower class dance halls were closed.

"I understand the police say they have difficulty in obtaining evidence against disorderly persons in the Broadway places. Well, our committee has obtained evidence which it will place in the hands of the Commissioner."

Can Act Under Law.

"It is wrong to say the police can't act in this matter, and that their duty ends when they see that the places without the necessary licenses close at the hour prescribed by law. They can act, because the law gives them the power to act against places and persons who are disorderly."

"It is the same sort of charge as this that resulted in closing the notorious nightclubs. You see, although the situation is bad, it isn't at all new."

"Today, however, because of the Kelly case, public attention again is called to the fact that this condition exists as a constant menace to our homes. The afternoon dances particularly are objectionable, and the police are unable to stamp out the conditions under which the hour-lights."

"Young girls go to these so-called dance halls, when perhaps their mothers believe they are shopping or attending a matinee. From the afternoon dances it is an easy step to be graduated to the night dances. Young married women with leisure especially are in danger."

"These things require more than moral teaching. They are matters for the police to handle. The Broadway parasite, or the social gangster, is a thing of the old-time dance halls, and sometimes he is the black sheep of a good family. The sure way of riding society of these things is to stamp out the conditions under which he flourishes."

Broadway Clearer, He Says.

Police Commissioner Woods refused to talk for publication today. He said he stood on the statement of Tuesday, which was in effect that so far as he knew Broadway is cleaner than it has been for some time, but that an investigation now is under way.

The unofficial police attitude is that, long as there are cafes, restaurants, and hotels in which dancing and drinking are permitted, and so long as the habits conduct themselves in orderly manner, there is no reason for police interference.

In New York are 75 dance hall houses, not including hotels containing fifty beds or more, where dancing as late as may be permitted under the law.

Val O'Farrell, the private detective, who gathered evidence for Mrs. Kelly, said today there are dance places where young girls are taught to use places, and that he can show the police the places.

"There are between 1,000 and 2,000 tango boxes in the Tenderloin," he said, "and at least 20 per cent of the men who attend the dances are dyed-in-the-wool parasites. Their ordinary charge for an afternoon's dancing is $5."

PAINFUL PIMPLES
DISFIGURED FACE

Very Sore. Large and Red. Constant Irritation. Kept Awake at Night. Scratching Irritated. Used Cuticura. Pimples Were Gone.

Atwell, Texas.—"My face began to break out about three years ago with small pimples and blackheads some of which were very sore. The pimples were most large and red and there were some which were white and contained a watery matter. The red ones contained a hard substance. The breaking out disfigured my face very much and the constant irritation was very painful. It bothered me keeping me awake at night and I could not keep from scratching. After a month or two I found my whole body breaking out."

"Finally I noticed an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and after the third day my face began to get better. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap and in three weeks' time the acne had completely left my face. My pimples were gone." (Signed) Herman Andrews, August 10, 1914.

Sample Each Free by Mail
With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-paid "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

First Woman Safe
Robber Is Arrested

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—A young woman, twenty-two, who was arrested on the charge of being a safe robber, was identified at police headquarters as the wife of Tony Ortel, who six weeks ago, was sent to the penitentiary for two years for robbing a safe.

She is the first woman in St. Louis charged with safe robbing, and she was arrested after she had been trailed nearly a mile by a policeman. She was carrying a package which contained a safe robber's "jiminy," an instrument described by the police as a "duck's bill jiminy" on account of its shape, a heavy sledge hammer and a cold chisel.

Six of One Family
Marry Six of Other

DIQUIN, Ill., May 27.—A transfer of property in Farrington township has disclosed that the McCounoughays and Donohos, two old families, hold the record for intermarriage.

"Five McCounoughay girls married Donoho boys, while one Donoho girl became the wife of a McCounoughay boy. The two families have lived in the same community for years, and their children attended school together."

Copper Pursues 350
Coppers, Gets Fugitive

NEW YORK, May 27.—The footrace in Eleventh avenue led by Harry Mayre, twenty-two, until he was captured by Patrolman Jenkins, might be called a case of a cop after 350 coppers, for Mayre had $3.50 in pennies in his pockets until he found them too much of a handicap against the fleet footed policeman. He scattered a stream of coppers along the way, and as he dodged behind a milk wagon he threw a handful of the loose change in the policeman's face.

The patrolman had to fire three shots before the fugitive was stopped. In the chase he had disposed of all the damnpennies, which were still left in his pocket. The pennies came from the till of a grocery store.

"A Heroine Mother."

"It is very difficult to get women to come out and make charges against these men. Mrs. Kelly was an exception. She is a heroine-mother, but how few there are like her."

"The police could snap the whip easily enough—get these men and drive them out of town. The case of Miss Kelly should be sufficient to prove the necessity of a police clean-up."

Mrs. Kelly left word at her home today that neither she nor Miss Kelly would have anything more to say for publication.

Home Club Chorus Heard
In Its First Concert

The Home Club Chorus gave its first concert last night at Memorial Continental Hall, with Otto T. Simon as director, and Mary Lorraine Robbins, soprano, and Richard Lorieberg, cellist, as soloists.

A program of nine numbers was given, including chorus, "Come, Gentle Spring" (Haydn); cello solo, "Sarabande" (Bach); "Bourree" (Hand); "Pavane" (Debussy); two choruses, "The Water Lily" (Gade), and "At Evening" (Mascagni); aria, "Chere Nuit" (Bachet); accompanied by Miss Robbins; two songs for chorus, "In Silent Night," and "Annie Laurie"; four songs, "Devotion" (Spring's Singing), "Together," and "Fair Fingers" (chorus); "Land Sighting" (Grieg), with baritone solo by John Waters; cello solo, "Albumblatt" (Henriette), and a minuet by Darius; and a chorus, "The Heavens Are Telling," from Haydn's "Creation."

Mrs. Albert M. Jackson and Mrs. Otto T. Simon were the accompanists.

Valuable Coal Land
Holdings To Be Sold

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—Coal land holdings of the Pittsburgh-Butte Coal Company were to be offered on the block today to satisfy claims of the Union Trust Company, as the conclusion of foreclosure proceedings instituted several months ago. The trust company claims to hold mortgages and notes for accrued interest totaling nearly $400,000.

The largest of the five properties is the Marianna, in Washington county, containing about 10,000 acres of land, with mines, miners' homes and office and other buildings of the company.

"Confession" of Wife Basis For Divorce Suit

HATTIESBURG, Miss., May 27.—A "confession" of a wife on what she thought was to be her death bed, three years ago, forms the principal grounds for a divorce, asked in the chancery court by V. B. Edmondson from Mrs. Mary Edmondson.

Edmondson states that they married in September, 1904. Until January, 1912, he says, he lived happily with his wife. About three years ago, the petition recites, Mrs. Edmondson became ill and was taken to the hospital. He frequently visited her, and on one occasion, she made admissions to him which he had not heretofore suspected. He sent her to her mother and continued to provide for her, he says, but because of her weak condition, would not desert her.

Scientific Sleeping
Assures Long Life

CHICAGO, May 27.—Dr. J. E. White, of Los Angeles, who is the in the interest of his "magnetic meridian" discovery, in an interview stated that the best method of sleeping in order to retain good health was to have the bed so arranged that the head of the sleeper is fixed direct north. This, Dr. White says, is much improved with the addition of glass covering for both the head and footboard of the bed.

He claims that long life and perfect health will follow the carrying out of his theories.

Goodyear Passes Goodyear

$500,000 Better
Yet Users Pay $5,000,000 Less

Note these amazing facts:

Goodyear tires, as built this year, will cost us $500,000 more than if built like 1914 Goodyears.

That's because of improvements.

Yet this year's output will cost our users some five million dollars less than if sold at 1914 prices.

That's because of a big price reduction, made February 1st. It was our third in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Why Better Tires?

You ask why we add that half-million dollars in face of such reductions.

We have always added every betterment our experts could discover. And we spend on research $100,000 yearly just to seek improvements out.

Goodyears may pass Goodyears, but we make sure that no rival ever can.

What Extras Cost

Goodyear Fortified Tires embody

many extras. Five of them are features found in no other tire that's built. Others are found in but few.

Based on current output, those extras this year will cost us $1,635,000.

That is, if we omitted our exclusive features, which all others do omit—

And other protections which most makers omit—

We could probably add to our profits this year more than 1½ million dollars.

But What of You?

But Goodyear users would pay. Those extras save our users many times the cost to us.

In those extras lies the reason why Goodyear outsells any other tire. And in that mammoth output lies the reason for the value that we give.

Think of these things when other tires are offered.

Each Goodyear extra means a saving to you. Any dealer, if you ask him, can supply you Goodyear tires.
